

Instructions

Cold Mangle KM 752

Moisten and stretch the garments before mangling. Fold sheets two or three times. Fold the duvet cover at most three times. Use the entire width of the roller.

Start

Turn on the mangle. Place the garments on the cloth. Lower the gate and the mangle starts. Hold the cloth tightly while feeding the garments. Let the mangle work for two to three minutes. Note: If the gate is pushed too far forward, the finger guard is activated and the rollers stop.

Large and heavy garments

Larger and heavier garments are fed through with the mangled cloth completely rolled-in. The garments will fall down into the collecting tray. Repeat until desired result is achieved.

Long garments

Long textiles are mangled on the outside of the almost completely rolled-in mangle cloth. Leave about 30 cm to attach the garment with. Stretch and smooth out creases and wrinkles while the garment is being fed.

Stop

To stop the rollers, place the gate in the intermediate position.

Reverse och release

To reverse, fold up the gate completely. If the gate is left in this position, the mangle will release after a few seconds. The mangle cloth and garments can then be discharged manually.

After use

Leave the mangle cloth rolled out so that it can dry. The gate is left in the intermediate position. Turn off the mangle with the ON/OFF-button.

Note: Garments with zippers, buttons, etc. can't be mangled. The mangle will stop automatically when overloaded. To restore engine protection and start the mangle, press the blue button at the bottom right side of the mangle.
